DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1 and 4-14, drawn to a nucleic acid encoding a desaturase.

Group II, claim(s) 2 and 3, drawn to an amino acid sequence of a desaturase.

Group III, claim(s) 15-18, drawn to an unsaturated fatty acid.

Group IV, claim(s) 19, drawn to a method for isolating a genomic sequence comprising homology screening with a nucleic acid fragment.

Group V, claim(s) 20, drawn to an enzyme.

The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The nucleic acid of Group I does not share a special technical feature with the polypeptide of Group II. According to the PCT Administrative Instructions, for molecules to be of similar nature, they need to share a common core structure and a common property or activity. Nor does the relationship of the polypeptides of Group I and the polynucleotides of Group II conform with Example 17 of the PCT Administrative Instructions. The instant claims are not directed to a single molecule, but encompass a family of molecules which are defined by a minimal structure. For these reasons, there is no shared technical feature between the nucleic acids of Group I and the polypeptides of Group II.

In addition, the unsaturated fatty acid of Group III is distinct biochemically, physiologically and functionally from the nucleic acid of Group I, the amino acid sequence of Group II and the enzyme of Group V, wherein the unsaturated fatty acid of Group III does not require any of the products of Groups I, II and V, can be made and used independently. And the method of Group IV does not require the unsaturated fatty acid of Group III. Group III lacks a special technical feature that links this invention with any of the inventions of Groups I, II, IV and V.

Furthermore, the method of Group IV does not share a special technical feature with any of Groups I-III and V, given that the method of Group IV uses a fragment of a nucleic acid of claim 1, wherein a fragment of said nucleic acid could be as small as one nucleotide and was known in the prior art. Said nucleic acid fragment would not encode the amino acid of Group sequence of Group II or the enzyme of Group V, and would not be required for the production of the unsaturated fatty acid of Group III.

Also, the enzyme of Group V does not share a special technical feature with any of Groups I-IV, wherein said enzyme is distinct structurally and functionally from the amino acid sequence of Group II and is not related to the nucleic acid of Group I, and is not required in the method of Group IV. And the unsaturated fatty acid is a distinct biochemical compound that does not require the enzyme of Group V.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and the requirement for different searches, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
